Historic Spanish Village Secures Long Awaited Restaurant

Town of Carefree Attracts Modern Latin Table Concept

CAREFREE, Ariz., (August 9, 2017) – With over 30 years of experience in the restaurant industry, Joe Viher, has finally secured the long awaited space in Spanish Village for his modern Latin table “dream”. Scheduled to open in November 2017, the restaurant, Bacán, which means “awesome” or “cool” in Latin, will consist of a heavy Central South American influence and present itself as an upscale, casual dining indoor and outdoor experience

Modern Latin food is known to offer a lighter, healthier menu, featuring fresh meats, small plates, seafood, soups, salads and sandwiches with a Latin influence. There isn’t much you won’t see with over 35 items on the menu.

Working recently as a consultant for many known restaurants in the Valley, Joe is still remembered for owning the popular Spanish Village Bodega Bistro and Tapas Bar ten years ago, attracting long lines out the door. Before the anticipated November 2017 opening, Joe will introduce his well-respected chef, but until then you will notice renovation being done to the site including an increase in the size of the bar and creating a 300+ seating experience. Plans also include rooftop dining, offering guests stunning views of Elephant Butte and Black Mountain.

Bacán will offer the community an experience like no other and refresh the menu based on seasonality and current trends. Bacán is located at Historic Spanish Village, 7212 E. Ho Hum Rd., #5, and will open for brunch, lunch and evenings with plans to offer a competitive happy hour.
